PASO ROBLES — After struggling to find the back of the cage in its first league match of the season, the Paso Robles High varsity boys water polo team got its offense on track in a win over St. Joseph on Tuesday.

The Bearcats hosted the Knights at the Municipal Pool and took their game to another level for an 18-7 victory.

Junior Mitchell Junker led all scorers with eight goals, while senior Kohl Coffey was close behind with five.

Goalie Gabe Hindley racked up 13 saves — including five in the fourth period — and the Paso defense finally started to shake off some signs of youth.

“We’ve been working hard to start understanding things better and seeing things quicker,” said Paso head coach Duane McRoy.

LOMPOC — A quick start to Friday’s non-conference road contest against the Cabrillo Conquistadores helped the Templeton High varsity football team hang on to its fourth consecutive win, 28-23. The victory sets up the Eagles for a possible five-game winning streak heading into their Northern League opener against Mission Prep.

THS head coach Dan Loney has stuck with the dual-quarterback system with senior Gunnar Griffin and junior Jordan Bernal both playing their roles under center. So far it has produced results.

The two combined for 146 yards on 11-for-23 passing in Friday’s win over the Congqs, with Bernal also churning out 119 yards on the ground on seven carries.

Bernal took advantage of some miscues by the Cabrillo defense early for big gains, and Templeton jumped out to a 20-7 lead in the first quarter.

THS traveled to Nipomo on Thursday, Sept. 25 and fell by a final of 6-12, while Cabrillo made the trip north on Tuesday

SANTA MARIA — The Templeton High cross country team had an all-around strong showing at the Righetti Invitational over the weekend, as the Eagles gathered some much-needed momentum heading into the Los Padres League Mid-Season Meet next week.

The Eagles took Santa Maria by storm on Saturday, setting several personal bests for the Elks Rodeo Grounds course.

"It was a good day," said THS head coach Don Crow. "I think every girl ran faster than they did last year on that course. In fact, I'm pretty sure every boy did, too. So for the whole team, it was a really good day."

Senior standout Kecymar Osuna led the charge for Templeton, winning the girls varsity race with a time of 18 minutes, 44.8 seconds on the 5K course.

Osuna's finish was nearly 14 seconds faster than the second-place time, and it helped secure second in the team standings for THS.

Dos Pueblos won the meet with a team score of 38, fueled by four finishers in the top 10 overall.

The Eagles' team score of 56 was close behind the Chargers and just ahead of fellow LPL squads Cabrillo and Nipomo.

Host Righetti finished fifth with a team score of 130, while Santa Maria and Pioneer Valley brought up the rear with marks of 156 and 187, respectively.

CROSS COUNTRY

Lady Eagles soar in Santa Maria

Templeton cross country preps for league meet

The goal for the THS girls is to win the league meet, while the boys are simply looking to break into the top four of the LPL.

[Russell] had a little glitch in the middle of the race where she had to break stride," Crow said. "But she got back up and ended up passing some people, so she ran well."

Templeton had two additional runners finish in the top 20, as sophomore Olivia Russell took 11th, sophomore Hannah Zemella was 12th and senior Hannah Weaver wound up 13th.

Russell clocked a time of 20:04.9, while Zemella was less than a second back at 20:05.6. Weaver was right on the other Eagles' heels, crossing the finish line in 20:06.9, which was 25 seconds faster than the next finisher.

Crow likes where his boys are at, especially given the depth issues they contend with on a daily basis.

"They're coming along really well right now," Crow said with an air of optimism. "We're pretty injury-free, which is great for cross country. We'll keep our fingers crossed and keep getting better."

The overall performance was good enough for THS to be bumped up in its division, as the Lady Eagles are now ranked No. 5 in the CIF Southern Section Division 4.

While the THS girls continue to live up to their lofty expectations, the boys have been slowly but surely getting better.

At the Righetti Invitational, the Eagles finished seventh among varsity teams, just behind Nipomo and well ahead of Santa Maria.

Dos Pueblos completed its sweep of the meet with a team score of 38, while Cabrillo took second with a 48 and Righetti was third at 82.

Templeton's final team score was 152, led by sophomore Sam Savory-Orton's 12th-place time of 16:55.6

The Eagles had one other finisher in the top 20, with sophomore Noah Crabtree snatching 16th with a time of 17:03.1.

That bodes well for the upcoming league meet in Santa Ynez, where Crow hopes the depth issues they contend with on a daily basis.

"Our kids are training really well right now," Crow said with an air of optimism. "We're pretty injury-free, which is great for cross country. We'll keep our fingers crossed and keep getting better."

The LPL Mid-Season Meet is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 8 at Santa Ynez High School.

Templeton will not compete in this weekend's Atascadero Invitational in order to keep fresh legs for the league meet.

"We still made young mistakes, but I'm very pleased that we sustained our offense. It was a good game for us."

The score was close throughout the first period, but a late flurry helped push Paso in front.

Coffey extended the Cats' lead to three goals by netting a score with 14 seconds left in the frame.

Coffey's third goal of the period gave Paso a 4-1 edge on St. Joe, and the Bearcats never trailed the rest of the way.

To start the second, Coffey quickly scored on a breakaway to push the advantage to 5-1.

The Cats and Knights then alternated goals for the remainder of the quarter until halftime came with an 8-5 Paso lead.

Coffey added a goal off a Junker assist during that stretch, and Junker chipped in two scores of his own.

Junker executed a perfect steal-and-score, and then completed a five-meter to get the goal total to eight.

St. Joseph responded with a nice lob shot with only 13 seconds left in the half.

Less than a minute into the third quarter, Hindley found Junker far down the pool in transition.

Junker beat the St. Joe goalie with a sidearm shot, and Paso took a 9-5 edge.

The Paso defense then buckled down, as Hindley fought off a five-meter shot and Coffey and Junker snatched back-to-back steals.

Junior Daniel Callahan got in on the action shortly thereafter, scoring his first varsity goal by sneaking one in on the short side.

Sophomore Garrett Wilson followed that up with two nice defensive plays, helping Hindley defend the cage with consecutive deflections.

Quinn's second goal came on a shot-clock buzzer beater with six seconds left in the game.

The score went final as an 18-7 win, evening Paso's PAC-8 record at 1-1.

"To let them have seven goals, we messed up on a few rotations," McRoy said. "But every time they scored, we would answer with a couple more."

Hindley was huge in the win, but he passed the praise on to his teammates.

"I know we're all practicing hard every day throughout the week," Hindley said. "It's just perseverance and hard work that really pays off. I've got to thank my team; it wasn't just me."

Paso has a short break before getting back in the pool, as the Cats' next game is on Tuesday, Oct. 7 at home against Pioneer Valley.

"Our kids played well," Loney said. "We've been doing really well first and second quarter. We need to learn how to finish the fourth quarter."

Neither team scored in the second quarter, and the Eagles took a 20-7 lead into the half.

"I thought both teams matched up well against each other," Loney said. "[Cabrillo] played hard."

The Eagles added to their lead in the third quarter, putting up eight to the Conquistadores' seven, but that only kept them ahead by a pair of touchdowns, 28-14, heading into the fourth quarter.

Instead of putting the game out of reach, Bernal lost one of four Eagles' fumbles on the 1-yard line, which gave a second wind to the Conquistadores, who needed all they could get with their backs against the wall in the fourth quarter.

The Royals are getting ready for a three-game home stand, beginning with another former Los Padres League rival, the Santa Ynez Pirates.

By the numbers, the Eagles look to be the favorites of not turning the ball over," Loney said. "That is what I think kept them in the game late."

"We are preparing just like every week," Loney said. "We can't take any team lightly. Each week, you can't look at their record. You've got to look at their guys and how they match up. We've got to be on top of our game."

Even though Loney is preparing for Santa Ynez, he knows that it is just the last chance the Eagles have to tune up for the Northern League.

"Our defense is playing great," Loney said. "If you look at the score, you might think they are giving up a lot of points, but they are holding their ground in key spots. They are doing a great job of keeping the other team out of the end zone, forcing them to have long drives and make mistakes."

The Royals have earned enough respect to be touted No. 1 in the CIF Southern Section Northwest division in the pre-season polls.

They took a big drop, down to No. 7 from No. 2, between week four to week five, but those days are far behind.

The Royals open the year with a win over struggling San Luis Obispo, but has since dropped games against Carpinteria, Dos Pueblos, Nipomo and Fillmore.

Over the past two games, the Royals have been outscored by a margin of 85-8.

Santa Ynez will be searching for an answer when the game kicks off at 7 p.m. tonight in Templeton.

they still rank higher than the Eagles, who have yet to make their appearance in the top 10.

But the Eagles are on the rise, coming off a one-win 2013 season, and Mission Prep is trying to justify two years of championship-game appearances in the CIF-SS Northeast division.

Before they get to Mission Prep and the Northern League schedule, the Eagles will finish out the pre-season tonight against Santa Ynez at home in Volunteer Stadium.

The Pirates enter the pairing on a four-game losing streak — a stark contrast to the Eagles' four wins straight.

Santa Ynez opened the year with a win over struggling San Luis Obispo, but has since dropped games against Carpinteria, Dos Pueblos, Nipomo and Fillmore.

After that, Templeton opens up the Northern League with a home game against the Royals, who will be digging in to rip out their first piece of the new league and regain their fading respect.

The day came from the doubles of Payal Patel and Emma Gray, who took one win 6-4.

Patel often plays alongside freshman Sofia Talarico, but that was the extent of the singles success for THS.

In doubles, Shin and Keohen earned the other two sets with scores of 6-3, 6-3, 2-6.

Templeton has two non-league matches to get back in the swing of things, as meetings with Orcutt and Coast Union followed the loss to the Cougars.

The Eagles traveled to Orcutt on Thursday, but results from that match were unavailable at press time.

THS will be on the road again this afternoon, traveling to take on Coast Union.

However, the senior pair had to be shifted accordingly, the return of Proft provided some stability in singles.

"[Proft] is back in full form and playing well," Housinger

"We start off with a doozy with Mission," Loney said. "We haven't had a chance to scout them. They've seen us, but we haven't seen them. We look forward to getting some film next week and seeing what they got."

Before they get to Mission Prep and the Northern League schedule, the Eagles will finish out the pre-season tonight against Santa Ynez at home in Volunteer Stadium.

The 23-14 victory over the Tigers improved Morro Bay's record to 2-3 overall. The Pirates' other win came against Segerstrom, but the Jaguars are 1-4 on the year, so its value is questionable.

The three losses tell a troubling tale for Morro Bay, with the Pirates losing by a combined score of 118-21.

Atascadero had the most dominant win against the Pirates to date. The Hounds blanked Morro Bay, 41-0.

Seniors Bailey Gaither, Josh Oliver and Jonathan Baldwin all signed their National Letter of Intent to play college football during a ceremony at the Paso Robles High School Performing Arts Center in front of friends, family, coaches, teammates and plenty of media members.

The trio of Bearcats — each one of whom was an integral part of Paso Robles' CIF Southern Section Northern Division Championship this season — made their verbal commitments months ago.

Now, with ink on the page, each Paso senior has officially joined the roster of his respective college team.

On a day when so many recruits across the country flip commitments and shock the world, Gaither, Oliver and Baldwin all stayed true to their prior pledges.

"It's a weight off the shoulders," Oliver said. "I'm just feeling blessed right now to have everything happen the way I wanted it to. When I was a freshman, I always had big dreams. And to get there, it's a big relief."

TEMPLETON — On the wings of destiny, Templeton High School senior Courtney Elterman signed her National Letter of Intent on Wednesday to trade her wings for a helmet, and transform from a long-time Eagle to become a San Jose State University Spartan.

Hendrickson won the possession, and was fouled by Natalie Reeves. The Hounds swam down and set up on offense, and Hendrickson passed to AHS senior Courtney McCarthy near the 5-meter mark.

McCarthy saw her chance, as Jessica Reeves was giving her some room, and McCarthy made a shot high into the corner of the Bearcats' goal to put Atascadero up, 2-0.

On a subsequent play, Paso Robles' goalie Kelsey Lewis passed deep ahead to sophomore driver Miranda Pasky, who made quick work to put a well-placed shot into the high corner over Brown. The Bearcats were on the board, 2-1.

Atascadero's Izzy Bischel returned fire to score with 2:12 on the first-quarter clock, and Atascadero held the lead into the second quarter.

The teams changed sides, and Atascadero came out swinging in the second period. A quick shot by Mika Williams bounced off the crossbar and Paso Robles came storming back. Lewis passed up to Natalie Reeves who saw senior captain Lauren Reed open in the set position, with nothing between her and Brown but water.

Reed made the easy shot, taking advantage of the Hounds' defensive lapse, pulling the Bearcats within 3-2.

Paso Robles defended the next Hounds' possession well, and returned on offense. A pass into Reed was defended by McCarthy, and Ferree swam in to claim the loose ball for Atascadero.

Ferree, to McCarthy, to Hendrickson, back to Ferree in the left corner led to a shot that was batted over the top of the goal by Lewis. Atascadero retained possession.

The possession ended with a McCarthy shot that nearly got past Lewis, but the Bearcats' goalie got just enough claws on the ball to keep it out.

McCarthy defended the Paso Robles shooter, and the ball sailed wide, and Brown recovered to pass out to Hendrickson.

On a subsequent Paso Robles possession, Reed drew an ejection on Ferree — which forced her to the sidelines — to give the Bearcats a six-on-five advantage for :20.

During the ejection time, the Bearcats were free to pass around to find the open player, and PRHS senior Summer Botts made the score from the left wing, bringing the game to a 3-3 tie with 3:00 remaining in the half. Ferree reentered the game.

Brown stole a subsequent pass and the Hounds drove on offense. Hendrickson drew an ejection on Pasky, and the Hounds gained the six-on-five advantage. A missed pass between Hounds cost valuable ejection seconds and disrupted the rhythm of the offense, leaving the opportunity on the table as Paso Robles fought to earn a foul on a rebound.

On offense, Reed saw an opportunity against Brown, and shot over St. Clair, but Brown responded to knock the ball down and give Atascadero back the ball. Atascadero did not capitalize, but great defense by St. Clair kept the game knotted at 3-3 into halftime.

In the third quarter, Paso Robles took its first lead of the game, taking advantage of a six-on-five scenario with St. Clair sitting out an ejection.

A quick pass-and-shoot inside to Natalie Reeves delivered the score for the Bearcats at the 4:00 mark and Paso Robles went up, 4-3. The Bearcats held the 4-3 lead into the fourth quarter.

With 5:00 left, Lewis passed ahead to Reed, but St. Clair broke up the pass and McCarthy swam out to get the ball between two Bearcats — Botts and Reed. McCarthy was called for a foul while keeping the Bearcats at bay, and Paso returned on the attack.

Reed passed ahead to junior Makenna Pugh on the left side, and Pugh passed up to a wide-open Pasky in front of the goal. Pasky spun for the goal past Brown, and Paso Robles took a firm 5-3 lead with 4:10 left.

On a subsequent possession, Paso Robles earned another ejection, sending Williams to the sidelines for :20 valuable seconds of six-on-five advantage for the Bearcats.

Paso Robles coach Duane McRoy called a timeout to strategize the Bearcats' opportunity to put the game further away. Out of the timeout, Botts scored another goal, and the Bearcats had gone on a 5-0 run to gain a 6-3 lead late in the fourth quarter.

The Greyhounds were playing in-your-face defensive press all over the pool, and it paid off with a McCarthy steal. McCarthy drove, and took an open shot, but Lewis batted it down.

Paso Robles, with a lead and a shrinking clock, worked the seconds down on every possession, but gave up the ball without a score as Lewis made a long pass that was intercepted by Atascadero.

Hendrickson took another shot with 1:40 left, but Lewis was able to knock it down and recover for the Bearcats. With :30 on the shot clock, Paso Robles had a chance to do major damage to the game.

Brown stole a subsequent pass and the Hounds drove on offense. Hendrickson drew an ejection on Pasky, and the Hounds gained the six-on-five advantage. A missed pass between Hounds cost valuable ejection seconds and disrupted the rhythm of the offense, leaving the opportunity on the table as Paso Robles fought to earn a foul on a rebound.

On offense, Reed saw an opportunity against Brown, and shot over St. Clair, but Brown responded to knock the ball down and give Atascadero back the ball. Atascadero did not capitalize, but great defense by St. Clair kept the game knotted at 3-3 into halftime.

In the third quarter, Paso Robles took its first lead of the game, taking advantage of a six-on-five scenario with St. Clair sitting out an ejection.

the open drive. The ensuing chaos ran the shot clock down on the Bearcats, and a long shot sailed over the cross bar as the shot clock expired. Atascadero escaped a near-disaster.

A shot by Ferree was turned into a counter, as both teams found themselves victims of the high intensity of a game within, or out of reach, respectively. Lewis passed long to a cherry-picking Pasky, and she almost had a open counter, but the ball popped up behind her arm as she stroked toward Brown.

Pasky recovered the loose ball, and drew an ejection on St. Clair that put her out of the game, but Paso Robles played tough defense to force a turnover. Lewis passed down to Natalie Reeves, who passed to Jessica Reeves.

Jessica Reeves turned to face Williams, and did not see McCarthy swoop in for the steal, and Atascadero turned around for the counter. But it was short-lived as Natalie Reeves closed in to steal the ball back, and found Botts wide-open at the 2-meter mark in front of Atascadero's goal. Botts put the ball past Brown easily, and pulled the Bearcats within 10-9 with 2:00 remaining.

Atascadero answered with a player to the leading 'Cats, but vicious defense near the goal delivered the ball to the Greyhounds, and Brown sent the ball out to Faith Archibald on the counter.

Archibald passed ahead to McCarthy on the right wing, and McCarthy spun wizardry to put the ball scorching by Lewis on the near side. Atascadero pulled within 6-5, with :40 left.

The Bearcats never developed an offensive play, content to run the clock out to :10 and throw the ball away as the shot clock expired. But Atascadero was not done.

Brown recovered the long shot by Lewis, and an excited Atascadero squad raced downpool in front of a roaring crowd.

Atascadero pressed, and Ferree forced a bad pass from Pasky, and Hendrickson swam to recover. She drove to the right wing, where she volleyed back-and-forth with Archibald.

On offense, the Bearcats got the ball in to a driving Reed, who was clobbered by St. Clair to give Paso Robles a penalty shot from the 5-meter mark. Pug put the ball in for the score, and the Bearcats pulled within 11-10 with 1:24 left.

Atascadero answered with a deep strike by McCarthy from about 12-yards out. The ball nearly caught fire as it sailed into the left corner of the goal for the game's fourth game-tying score, 8-8.

Atascadero pressed, and Ferree forced a bad pass from Pug, and Hendrickson swam to recover. She drove to the right wing, where she volleyed back-and-forth with Archibald.

Reed played McCarthy aggressively in the middle of the pool and stole the ball. Fighting all the way, McCarthy recovered to turn Reed away from the ball in to a driving Reed, who was clobbered by St. Clair to give Paso Robles a penalty shot from the 5-meter mark. Pug put the ball in for the score, and the Bearcats pulled within 11-10 with 1:24 left.

The game was for the ages, and Atascadero battled against the odds with an epic rival. The game came down to the final seconds, just like it should have in the final game of the PAC-8 League regular schedule.

Atascadero (4-2 PAC-8, 12-13 overall) may face Paso Robles in the league finals on Wednesday, Feb. 11, or Friday, Feb. 13, in Arroyo Grande. Times are yet to be announced.

"It was the best thing ever," Ferree said. "For my last three years on varsity, we haven't beaten them during league. We have in the league tournament, but not in league. It was really cool to be the last game ever in front of the home crowd. That was the loudest game we have ever had. It was really cool to have that support."

Shandon on pace for third straight CIF berth

Outlaws clip Crusaders despite 41 from Dam-Mikkelsen

Jeff Poirier
OF THE PASO ROBLES PRESS

SHANDON — What has already been a season of redemption got even better for Shandon High basketball on Tuesday night.

The Outlaws played host to North County Christian for a Coast Valley League game, and the home team finished in front despite a 41-point performance from the Crusaders' Andrew Dam-Mikkelsen. The NCCS senior guard accounted for all but six of his team's points, as the Crusaders fell to the Outlaws by a final score of 59-47.

With the win, Shandon improves to 5-3 in the league standings, while NCCS is still searching for its first tally in the Coast Valley win column.

The Outlaws have two league contests remaining as they try to lock down a CIF playoff berth for the third consecutive season. As it stands, Shandon is in position to finish with its first winning record in at least 10 years.

"I think we went over a lot of fundamentals," said first-year Shandon coach Ejon Felder. "Understanding defensive philosophies and where to be on offense, just teaching them how to play the game — the basics of the game."

While Shandon sets its sights on CIF, North County Christian is looking for any kind of momentum as the off-season approaches.

The Crusaders only have seven players on their roster, and only five were present for the outing in Shandon. As such, the entire team played all 32 minutes of the game, which doesn't allow much margin for error. Though the night ended in defeat, there were some bright spots for NCCS. The first and foremost was Dam-Mikkelsen. It goes without saying that he led all scorers with 41 points, but his play was more than just getting buckets.

Dam-Mikkelsen also pulled down 16 rebounds to ensure a double-double, while adding five steals and three thunderous blocks. It's no secret that the Crusaders offense runs through Dam-Mikkelsen, and that was evident against the Outlaws as he shot the ball 36 times. Perhaps his best weapon was the ability to score off the bounce, particularly when he employed the Euro step to cut through the defensive front.

After Dam-Mikkelsen came senior Elijah Shively and freshman Frank Prebor, who finished the game with four points and two points, respectively.

For Shandon, three players reached double-digit scoring, led by sophomore Juan Reyes with 11 points. The Outlaws also got 10 points apiece from junior Josiah York and sophomore Jose Hernandez. Reyes was outstanding all around, posting a double-double with 10 rebounds. The next rebounder for Shandon was sophomore Beige Grassotti with nine, five of which came on the offensive glass.

Despite the play of Dam-Mikkelsen, the game got out of hand early for the Crusaders. Shandon took a double-digit lead in the opening minutes of the first quarter and never stopped pushing.

After a free throw by Dam-Mikkelsen slowed their roll, the Outlaws went back to work with three straight scores. York finished a transition layup before Grassotti closed the quarter with two buckets, giving Shandon a 24-7 lead after one.

The Outlaws then scored the first eight points of the second quarter, extending their lead to 32-7 in the process.

NCCS answered with an eight-point run as Dam-Mikkelsen drained two 3-pointers and then went coast-to-coast for another basket. The outburst trimmed the Outlaws' lead back to 17, but the Crusaders were stuck on 15 points for the rest of the half. Shandon strung together eight points in a row, including a long jumper by Hernandez with 10 seconds before halftime. The Outlaws led 40-15 at the break and would only widen the gap in the third.

The Crusaders only scored four points in the third, while Shandon added 10 to its total to make the count 50-19.

With the game essentially over, Felder emptied the bench and Dam-Mikkelsen started to dominate. NCCS netted eight of the first nine points in the quarter, including three consecutive baskets by Dam-Mikkelsen at the rim. The Crusaders scored 28 points in the fourth quarter alone, which is ridiculous given their total of 19 points through the first three frames.

while Prebor had four and Shively had three. Shively also had two assists, two steals and one block for NCCS.

Looking ahead, the Crusaders are back in action this evening, while the Outlaws are off until next week. NCCS will host Valley Christian this afternoon at Colony Park in Atascadero, and Shandon will host Cuyama Valley on Tuesday.

PASO ROBLES — While rain fell and soothed the drought-stricken Central Coast soil on Friday night, another dry spell was coming to an end in Paso Robles.

For the first time since 2000, the Paso Robles High Bearcats are CIF football champions after finishing off Newbury Park in the CIF Southern Section Northern Division title game.

The Bearcats survived a mud bowl at War Memorial Stadium to score a 13-10 win over the Panthers that will go down in PRHS history.

As the Paso offense kneeled out the clock in the victory formation, the celebration started. Fans and families stormed the field while players slid through the mud and took in every sight and sound around them.

The energy was palpable, and it won't soon be forgotten by this group of Bearcats.

"It's fantastic," said junior defensive end Evan Espinoza. "This was our goal from the beginning and we can only dream of actually doing it. Now that it's done, it's just a dream come true. There's no better feeling right now."

Espinoza and the Paso defense had a spectacular game, holding an explosive Newbury Park offense to just 10 points. The conditions certainly helped slow the Panthers down, but the Bearcats were giving it all on each and every play to reach the finish line.

Two plays down the stretch stick out as indicative of the defensive effort. Clinging to a 13-10 lead late in the fourth quarter, the Bearcats stopped Newbury Park on fourth down to end two consecutive drives.

The first came when junior nose guard Jacob Stanko swatted a pass at the line of scrimmage, and the second was minutes later after the offense lost its third fumble of the night.

The Bearcats had issues with ball security from the center-quarterback exchange, and the turnover with 2:45 left in the fourth quarter gave the Panthers new life.

Paso Robles needed one last defensive stop to get over the hump, and the Bearcats responded.

Paso Robles High head coach Rich Schimke hoists the 2014 CIF Southern Section Northern Division plaque after leading the Bearcats to their first divisional football championship since 2000. Schimke has won three CIF titles with Paso Robles.

the players trust their coaches and look where we are right now. It's pretty incredible."

Paso didn't make it easy, but the Cats made the plays necessary to win the game. Newbury Park led 3-0 in the second quarter and 10-7 heading to the fourth, yet the Bearcats continued to battle.

Paso claimed its first lead of the game in the second quarter, when junior quarterback Justin Davis connected with senior Jonathan Baldwin for a 34-yard touchdown.

The touchdown pass came on fourth down, as the Bearcats faked out the Pan-

Bearcats earn ninth football championship in school history

As Paso Robles High basks in the glory of its first CIF football championship in over a decade, it's only appropriate to look back on the last time the Bearcats played for all the marbles.

It was the Year 2000, and the world was finally okay with the fact that Y2K was nothing more than a field day for technophobic doomsayers.

The average cost for a gallon of gas was $1.49, and the first true unification efforts between North Korea and South Korea led to a Nobel Peace Prize for Kim Dae-jung.

In sports, Michael Phelps competed in the Summer Olympics in Sydney at the age of 15, making him the youngest U.S. swimmer to qualify for the games since the 1930s.

Elsewhere, the New York Yankees were fresh off their third World Series win in a row, while the Los Angeles Lakers were just getting started on their NBA title three-peat.

On the Central Coast, the Paso Robles Bearcats were looking for a championship tri-fecta of their own after coming off two consecutive CIF championships in 1998 and 1999. The Bearcats ended up winning it all in 2000 to start the millennium off in style, but the program then went 14 seasons without a return trip to the CIF finals.

Current head coach Rich Schimke was at the helm for championships in 1999 and 2000, while longtime coach Bill Stansbury concluded his

"To go back in that 14-year span since we've been there, it just shows you how precious it is but also how difficult it is to get there," Schimke said.

"The level of competition has really helped us up our game," Schimke continued. "It's a special getting back to that spot, and I'm just really proud of the guys this year getting to this game."

Not only did Paso get to

ther by lining up in the I formation. Paso had run over and over out of that set, but instead Davis went to the air and the gamble paid off.

Senior Bryce Pasky kicked the extra point, and Paso led 7-3 through halftime.

Both teams traded punts for much of the third quarter, as the field made offensive football nearly obsolete.

Senior guard Manny Mendez described the difficulty of playing in inches of mud.

"It was a battle; it really was," Mendez said. "We couldn't do a lot of the stuff we would normally do, but I think we put in a lot of work during the week practicing. Both sides of the ball, coaches, everyone just went all out for the CIF championship game."

After Newbury Park retook the lead on an amazing pitch and catch from Daniel Prieto to Darick Holmes, Jr. in the third quarter, it was up to Mendez and the Paso offense to answer.

With the clock inside eight minutes to play, the Bearcats did just that.

Paso leaned on senior Bailey Gaither to carry the load offensively, as he took the vast majority of touches out of the jumbo package.

Gaither ended up with over 200 yards rushing, and he set Paso up goal-to-go from a yard out. Davis finished the drive with a touchdown dive, and Paso took a 13-10 lead after another failed snap on the extra-point attempt.

Then came the Bearcats' two defensive stands, which closed out the school's ninth overall CIF football championship on Friday.

Reserve running back Robert Mares, who was filling in for three injured Bearcats backs, pointed to Schimke's leadership as paramount to the championship effort.

"Honestly, this whole effort, this whole CIF run ... all of this is coach Schimke," Mares said. "I have never had a coach more prepared in the offensive game plan."

Schimke alluded to the players' trust in each other and the coaching staff, something that he instilled in the locker room with the help of his three-year varsity players — Gaither, Baldwin, Horne and offensive linemen Jordan Burbank.

"It comes back to Bailey, Jonathan, Michael Horne and Jordan Burbank," Schimke said. "I can continue to name other guys, but it comes back to those guys preaching to the younger guys. Let's trust each other; let's do this."

Mendez mentioned that trust as key in the Bearcats' resilience against Newbury Park.

"We just had to keep our heads, keep moving forward,"

Mendez said. "We've got a great defense; we really trust our guys. We just have trust in each other as a team."

With a CIF championship secured, Paso Robles earned the right to continue its historic season.

The Northern Division champion Bearcats were selected to compete in the CIF State Bowl Championship, which will begin this weekend.

ACA entered the game after eliminating the Templetown Eagles with a 40-30 win in the Northwest semifinals.

The ACA Eagles had to travel to Nipomo for the championship, and they were sent home empty-handed after coming up short in the second half.

The low-scoring game saw a 7-7 tie at halftime, as Nipomo and ACA both scored once in the first quarter and were kept out of the end zone in the second half.

The Titans drew first blood with a short touchdown run in the El Capitan matchup, pick by sophomore Michael Jordan, but the Eagles answered with an 80-yard scoring drive capped by a pass from senior quarterback Bradley Mowbray to Isaac Mowbray.

The 7-7 tie held strong as both defenses were wreaking havoc on the opposing offenses, state championship.

NIPOMO — The Paso Robles Bearcats aren't the only CIF football champions on the Central Coast this year.

One night after Paso clinched its first CIF title since 2000, the Nipomo High Titans defeated Arrowhead Christian in a thriller to win the school's first-ever CIF championship.

Nipomo High School has only existed since 2002, and the Titans made their first title game appearance count with a 22-19 besting of ACA in the CIF Southern Section Northwest Division championship.

Nipomo (10-4) made a miraculous run through the playoffs after sharing the Northern League crown with Templeton and Morro Bay. The Titans blew out Bishop Montgomery, Shadow Hills and Poly-Pasadenas by a combined score of 162-41 to reach the finals.

ACA entered the game after eliminating the Templetown Eagles with a 40-30 win in the Northwest semifinals.

extra point was good, giving the home team a 14-13 edge.

After Nipomo forced a punt, the NHS offense took advantage with a screen from senior quarterback Matt Albright to do-everything senior Nick Kimball, who also fills in at kicker.

The Titans went for the two-point conversion and got it on a run by senior Chris Owens, which made the score 22-13 in favor of NHS.

Heading to the fourth quarter, Nipomo was 12 minutes away from winning not only its first CIF football title, but the school's first CIF championship in any sport.

However, Arrowhead Christian refused to go down without a fight.

The Eagles scored on another Mowbray-to-Mowbray connection with under seven minutes to play, but ACA inexplicably went for two. The conversion was no good, leaving the Eagles in need of a field goal to tie the game.

That's where the defense really came to play for Nipomo, led by senior safety Peyton Witcher, who had two interceptions in the game.

Witcher's second INT came in the waning moments of the fourth quarter, and it essentially sealed the game for the Titans.

The 22-19 win was history made for Nipomo, which had without a doubt the best season in program history.

The Titans' four losses came by a single point to Lompoc, in fairly even fights with PAC-5 co-champs Atascadero and Arroyo Grande, and on a last-second goal in the driving rain versus Templeton.

Once the playoffs began, Nipomo just demolished the competition to get to the title game, and once there, the Titans cashed in.

It's a monumental accomplishment for the senior class and for head coach Russ Edwards, who also serves as the NHS athletic director and boys basketball coach.

The Titans will be hard-pressed to repeat, as they lose Witcher, Albright, Owens, Kimball and several others to graduation, but they'll always be the 2014 CIF Southern Section Northwest Division champions.

COLLEGE BASKETBALL

Mustangs halt two-game slide with win

Cal Poly tops Menlo College in return from brutal road trip

*Jeff Poirier
OF THE PASO ROBLES PRESS*

SAN LUIS OBISPO — After heading home from a challenging two-game road swing with nothing to show, the Cal Poly men's basketball team got back to its winning ways with a romp of Menlo College at the Mott Athletics Center.

The Mustangs rode a 41-17 halftime lead to the finish to dispatch the Oaks on Saturday night by a final score of 72-35.

The victory improves Cal Poly's overall record to 3-3 on the young season, and it helps partially erase the memory of two lopsided losses at Cal-Berkeley and St. Mary's last week.

Junior forward Brian Bennett carried the Mustangs past Menlo, leading all scorers with 15 points. Bennett made all seven of his shot attempts from the field, which padded Poly's team shooting percentage of 39.4. Had it not been for one missed free throw, Bennett would have had a flawless night filling it up.

Two other Mustangs ended up in double figures, with junior forward Joel Awich dropping 13 and senior guard Reese Morgan adding 11.

Awich was efficient from the floor on 5-of-10 shooting, while Morgan made three of his nine attempts, but only drained one 3-pointer on five tries.

If there was one area that Cal Poly fell short of brilliance, it was shooting behind the arc.

The Mustangs combined to shoot 25 percent from deep, with only senior swingman Michael Bolden connecting on one triple.

In contrast, six different players missed at least two 3-balls for Poly, including a forgettable 0-6 mark by senior forward Anthony Silvestri.

The struggles from 3-point land didn't matter much in the outcome of the game, as Menlo College — which competes in the Division II-comparable NAIA — was severely overmatched.

The Oaks only had one player break into double-figure scoring, and none of the starters netted more than six points. Sophomore guard Skyler Sexton led Menlo with 11 points on 4-of-7 shooting off the bench.

As a team, the Oaks shot at a clip of 28.6 percent, which explains why they trailed by as many as 40 points at one juncture in the game.

Cal Poly held Menlo to just 17 points in the first half, and the Mustangs nearly matched the defensive effort in the second half as the Oaks scored 18.

Overall, the Mustangs dominated Menlo College, as their success was a decided advantage on the glass, where the Mustangs grabbed 51 rebounds, including 20 on the offensive end.

Menzel managed just 26 total rebounds, likely a factor of Poly's height differential.

Six Mustangs measure in at 6-foot-7 or taller, compared to just two Oaks.

Bennett was the lead rebounder with eight total boards, followed by Bolden and forward Aleks Abrams with seven apiece.

Abrams, a freshman from Newbury Park High School, finished with three points, a block and an assist in his first serious action for Poly.

Against St. Mary's, Nwaba was on fire offensively with 19 points, but the Mustangs couldn't contain the Gnels on the defensive end of the floor.

Four players scored in double figures for St. Mary's, led by senior Brad Waldow with 22 points.

Waldow notched a double-double in the win, pulling down 13 rebounds to go with his 9-of-13 shooting performance.

Realistically, the two road tests were games that Cal Poly was supposed to lose.

California already has a win over Syracuse on its resume, while St. Mary's is a perennial power out of the West Coast Conference.

Cal Poly had 17 assists to just five turnovers, while the Oaks committed a total of 15 turnovers. Poly got to the free-throw line 17 times — making 14 for a mark of 82.4 percent — while Menlo only attempted six free throws all game.

That's not to say the Mustangs didn't go in expecting to be successful, but the experience of playing in hostile arenas against teams with superior records will be important down the road.

If Cal Poly is to make a return trip to the NCAA Tournament, the Mustangs will need to draw from these early-season games when it's crunch time come March.

Cal Poly will have a break before its next game, as the Mustangs don't play again until Saturday night on the road at Fresno State.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Boise State claims Mountain West crown

Conference title locks up bid to Fiesta Bowl

Jeff Poirier

OF THE PASO ROBLES PRESS

BOISE — It wasn't always pretty, but the Boise State Broncos did enough to secure their eighth win in a row with a 28-14 takedown of rival Fresno State in the Mountain West championship game on Saturday night.

The conference title bout featured two local football alums in Boise's Tyler Gray and Fresno's Bo Bonnheim.

Though he didn't get the start, Gray got the better of Bonnheim in the second meeting of the season between the teams to make sure Templeton High will be represented in a premier game of the college football postseason.

With the Mountain West title secured, Boise State earned a berth in the "New Year's Six" with a matchup against Arizona in the VIZIO Fiesta Bowl.

Gray and the Broncos finish the regular season ranked No. 20 in the College Football Playoff rankings, while their opponent — the UA Wildcats — are ranked No. 10 after getting blasted by second-ranked Oregon in the PAC-12 Championship game.

As for Paso Robles High grad Bonnheim and Fresno State, the loss to Boise sloteted them in the Hawaii Bowl against the Rice Owls on Christmas Eve.

At 6-7 overall, the Bulldogs certainly had their share of issues to contend with in 2014, but to come within two scores of the conference's flagship program is commendable.

Early on in Saturday's championship game, it looked like Boise State was poised to blow Fresno State out of the water.

The Broncos took a 21-0 lead early in the second quarter on a touchdown run by star running back Jay Ajayi, which followed two first-quarter scores — a touchdown run by quarterback Grant Hedrick and a pick-six by linebacker Tanner Vallejo.

In total, the Broncos intercepted three passes from Fresno State QB Brian Burrell, which played a major part in the final score.

Even so, Burrell still passed for 332 yards on 30 completions compared to just nine completions all game by Hedrick.

However, Hedrick had two rushing touchdowns, including the first score of the second half to put Boise ahead, 28-0.

It wasn't until late in the third quarter that the Bulldogs got on the board, as Bonnheim and the Fresno offensive line paved the way for a touchdown run by Josh Quezada.

Unfortunately for Fresno, the Quezada rush was one of few successful runs on the night. The Bulldogs finished with 41 attempts for just 70 yards, which works out to 1.7 yards per carry.

of the fourth quarter, standing in the pocket and connecting with Greg Watson for a 25-yard scoring strike.

The Bulldogs even went so far as to convert the ensuing onside kick, but the Broncos didn't allow any further damage defensively.

Gray only recorded one tackle in the game, but he has been a large part of Boise's season-long success. Prior to the conference title game, Gray had 58 tackles on the year, which was good for second-most on the team. He was also tied for first on the roster with seven pass breakups.

While Bonnheim and the Bulldogs look to get back to .500 against Rice in Honolulu, Gray and the Broncos will look for an elite bowl win in Glendale, Ariz. in the Fiesta Bowl.

Boise State has won the Fiesta Bowl twice before, most memorably in an epic upset of Adrian Peterson and the Oklahoma Sooners in 2006-07.

the title game, but the Bearcats took it a step further with a 13-10 win over Newbury Park.

The CIF championship was the ninth all-time for Paso Robles High School, as the Bearcats also won the whole thing in 1951, 1952, 1953, 1972, 1974 and the aforementioned three-peat from '98 through 2000.

In the previous championship years, Paso competed against schools such as South

Pasadena, Duarte, Inglewood and Monrovia.

The championships in 1998 and 1999 were won against Monrovia, while the 2000 title came against Inglewood. While those are strong football schools, they don't match up with the programs Paso faced in the following seasons.

In the years after 2000, the Bearcats were paired in the playoffs with the likes of Westlake, St. Bonaventure, Valencia and Hart, which made a championship run more difficult to achieve.

However, Schimke believes the increase in competition has helped Paso Robles move to the next level as a football program, and that progress was on display in 2014.

"That's thanks to my athletic directors over the years for scheduling better opponents [and] good preseasons to get us ready for opponents like Newbury Park that have athletes all over the place," Schimke said.

The end result was a championship this season, which will allow today's Paso stars, like Bailey Gaither, Josh Oliver, Jonathan Baldwin and others, to be remembered for years to come.

The 2014 Bearcats will join the ranks of Andre Nickelson, who led Paso with over 230 yards in the title game in 1999, and Jason Holmes, who caught three touchdowns to push the Cats past Inglewood in 2000.

Paso Robles isn't done making history either, as the Bearcats will go to the state playoffs for the first time.

Regardless of the results in this weekend's state bowl game, Schimke and the 2014 Bearcats can party like it's 1999.

SHANDON — After building a 17-point lead in the first half, the Shandon varsity boys basketball team weathered a last-ditch effort by Riverdale Christian Academy, holding off the visiting Ambassadors for a 72-64 victory.

"I thought we had a good offensive game, but our defense was kind of lacking," said Shandon head coach Michael Hove. "We got relaxed in the second half."

The Outlaws were led offensively by senior guard Cicero Goddard, who scored 37 points despite fouling out with over three minutes left in the game.

Shandon also got a strong performance from freshman Beige Grassotti, who chipped in 19 points and was crucial defensively and on the glass.

The Ambassadors and Outlaws met previously in Riverdale, a game which Shandon won with ease, 74-51.

Early on, the rematch looked destined to repeat that result, but the Ambassadors didn't fold when the pressure built.

Cats and Hounds set for rivalry week

North County rivals face off six times this week

Jeff Poirier
OF THE PASO ROBLES PRESS

NORTH COUNTY — The longstanding rivalry between Paso Robles and Atascadero is set to write another chapter this week, as the Bearcats and Greyhounds will meet in six separate varsity events over the course of Tuesday and Wednesday.

Kick-starting the schedule of competition is girls water polo, as Atascadero will visit the Paso Robles Municipal Pool this afternoon to battle the Bearcats.

The match is the regular season finale for both teams and could provide a glimpse of what to expect at the PAC-7 Varsity Tournament next week in San Luis Obispo.

The Hounds enter the matchup coming off a pair of league wins, while the Bearcats have won their last three matches at home.

The teams recently squared off in the Oxnard Pacific View Tournament, with Atascadero coming out on top, 12-6.

The PAC-7 meeting between the Cats and Hounds is scheduled to begin at 4 p.m. in Paso Robles.

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — While the Seattle Seahawks were busy embarrassing the Denver Broncos on the field at Super Bowl XLVIII, a Paso Robles High School alumnus was hard at work entertaining the crowd of 82,500 at MetLife Stadium.

Shaun Gallant — a 2004 PRHS graduate and founder of Gallant Entertainment — had the honor of being chosen to add to the spectacle that is the greatest show on turf.

Gallant's Manhattan-based company specializes in music entertainment, specifically a drumline that performs at professional sporting events throughout New York.

Prior to landing the gig with the NFL, Gallant's group had performed for the New York Knicks, Jets, Giants and Rangers, as well as the Boston Celtics.

However, all of the above pales in comparison to the Super Bowl, which is the creme de la creme of professional sports in the United States.

"For all sports entertainment, the [Super Bowl] is the pinnacle," said Gallant in a recent phone interview. "It is the cream of the crop."

"We feel very honored to be not only playing for the NFL, but that the NFL has given us the right to brand ourselves as the NFL drumline," continued Gallant.

Before founding the company, Gallant moved to New York to pursue his master's degree in percussion performance at NYU. The graduate program was the culmination of a long road of drumming that included four years in the PRHS marching band and five years with the prestigious Santa Clara Vanguard organization.

And while Gallant Entertainment is his brainchild, Gallant does not actually perform with the drumline. He works behind the scenes to make sure everything goes down without a hitch.

"The creative side of it is the easy part," said Gallant. "Since the start of the company, the more difficult side, the steeper learning curve, has definitely been the business side of it. But I've been fortunate enough to surround myself with great advisors in the industry."

In addition to the numerous sporting events they've performed for, Gallant's group has appeared in commercials and done several events for Nike, Under Armour and all sorts of production companies.

But now that they've reached the height of the sports scene, what's next for Gallant Entertainment?

"The goal is to begin franchising across the country into different sports, different NFL teams, different cities [and] different NBA teams," said Gallant. "It's been set up like that from the beginning."

"One really important thing that we're going to get out of this Super Bowl is looking to retain this contract and build this relationship for years to

Bearcats fall in overtime to Pioneer Valley

Panthers net game-winner in first extra session

Jeff Poirier
OF THE PASO ROBLES PRESS

PASO ROBLES — In a game that saw far more fouls than scoring chances, Pioneer Valley edged Paso Robles in boys varsity soccer on Friday, Jan. 31 at War Memorial Stadium.

The Bearcats hosted the Panthers looking to rebound from a road loss to Righetti, but the visitors broke through in the first overtime period to escape with a narrow 2-1 win.

Paso battled adversity for much of the evening, as senior defender Matthew Mihelic was lost for the entirety of the second half and overtime after drawing two yellow cards and the subsequent automatic red card.

Given the uphill climb the Bearcats faced, head coach Omar McPherson was very pleased with his team's effort in spite of the end result.

"They stepped up today and they played an amazing game," said McPherson. "Unfortunately, the ball rolled [PV's] way."

"But I'm very proud of how the guys played. I always want them to play this way," continued McPherson. "This was the best game we've played all season, although we lost."

After 20 minutes of back-and-forth action, the Panthers got their first break of the night, as Mihelic was given his first yellow card on a tackle attempt in the box.

It seemed that Mihelic made contact with the ball cleanly, but as Pioneer Valley's attacker tumbled to the grass, the referee blew his whistle and signaled a foul.

Eagles bounce back to topple Nipomo in OT

Templeton improves to 4-3-2 in Los Padres League with win

*Jeff Poirier

NIPOMO — Coming off a home loss to Santa Maria, the Templeton varsity boys soccer team got back to its winning ways, taking down Nipomo in overtime on Thursday, Jan. 30.

The Eagles traveled to face the Titans in Nipomo, needing extra time to escape with a thrilling 4-2 win.

Junior forward Austin Alarcon was the star of the show for Templeton, notching a hat trick to lead the Eagles past the Titans.

Alarcon's first goal of the game came unassisted on a free kick, which he lobbed masterfully over the Nipomo wall and beyond the reach of the keeper.

The scoring strike came in the 28th minute to put THS on top, 1-0.

That margin only held for eight minutes, as Nipomo answered with a goal moments before halftime.

Alarcon got on the board again midway through the second half, beating the Titans' keeper on an assist from senior midfielder Matt Mosher.

The Eagles led 2-1 for much of the half, but Nipomo scored an equalizer with less than two minutes to play in regulation to send the game to overtime.

Five minutes into the first overtime period, Templeton retook the lead on a goal by sophomore Clayton MacKay, assisted by none other than Alarcon.

Despite taking the lead, Templeton continued to pressure Nipomo, hoping to put the game to rest without further drama.

Alarcon notched his third goal of the game two minutes after his assist, drilling home another free kick from just beyond the box.

The goal gave the Eagles their final winning margin of 4-2, locking up the season sweep of Nipomo.

Senior goalkeeper Yusuke Yokota had eight saves in the win, including two in overtime to keep Templeton in front.

The win improves the Eagles' overall record to 7-8-2, and 4-3-2 in Los Padres League action.

Templeton will be back on the pitch this afternoon, traveling to face Cabrillo for another LPL match.

The Eagles and Conquistadores are set to begin at 3 p.m. in Lompoc.

In previous action, Templeton lost a home match to Santa Maria, 3-1, on Jan. 28 despite holding the advantage in shots on goal.

The Eagles' lone goal scorer was senior Jeffrey Hammond, who scored in the second half assisted by junior Matt Janggaard.

The Panthers proved too much to handle, as they finished the break off with the eventual game-winning goal.

Paso came close with 30 seconds to play, as a throw in sailed high into the PV box and bounced around off a few deflections.

Ultimately, the ball was cleared, and the score went final in favor of the Panthers, 2-1.

Paso Robles will hope to shake off the loss and refocus for a rivalry showdown with Atascadero. The Bearcats and Hounds will do battle on Wednesday at 7 p.m. in Atascadero.

That common goal on Sunday was to entertain a crowd of football fans at Super Bowl XLVIII that was otherwise shell-shocked.

Those in attendance at MetLife Stadium were expecting an epic showdown between Peyton Manning and Seattle's Legion of Boom, but all they got was a lopsided blowout.

The Seahawks absolutely stomped the Broncos from start to finish, taking down Manning and Co. by a final score of 43-8.

The meet, which is the regular season finale for both squads, is set to begin at 7 p.m.

Paso Robles and Atascadero both hold league records of 4-1, as each dropped its only dual loss against PAC-7 powerhouse Pioneer Valley.

Both groups will be looking to snatch bragging rights and grab some momentum heading into the PAC-7 Finals, which are scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 15 at Righetti High.

The rivalry slate will continue on Wednesday, with the varsity basketball and soccer teams set to go head to head.

The varsity boys and girls met in both sports in early January, with the home teams pulling out wins in each game.

The Hounds hosted the Bearcats in basketball, while Paso welcomed Atascadero to War Memorial Stadium for an exciting night of soccer.

The AHS girls pounded Paso Robles, 45-16, while the boys won handily as well, 74-55.

On the pitch, things were much closer, as the Bearcats

The Paso varsity girls took care

the boys went through two over-

This time around, the basketball and soccer teams will switch places, with Paso hosting the Hounds on the hardwood and Atascadero taking its home field for some European football.

The games at Gil Asa Gymnasium are set to begin at 6 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. for the girls and boys, respectively.

Down in Atascadero, the girls will get underway at 5 p.m., while the boys will begin at 7 p.m. on the field at Atascadero High School.

opening minutes.

The Outlaws benefitted from a myriad of fast-break opportunities, including a pair of back-to-back layups off of steals by Grassotti and Goddard.

Riverdale struggled to get the ball down the court, as Shandon's pressure defense forced a number of turnovers early on.

Goddard extended the Outlaws' lead with 3-pointers on consecutive possessions, followed by another fast-break layup as a result of strong on-ball defense.

A layup by Grassotti pushed Shandon's lead to 10 points in the first quarter, but the Ambassadors responded with a couple of layups and a triple to get back into the game.

With less than a minute in the quarter, Shandon sophomore Justin Denton gobbled up a big rebound and dropped it in to slow the Riverdale run.

Grassotti closed the quarter by connecting on a baseline jumper, giving the Outlaws a 27-19 edge at the first intermission.

After Riverdale opened the second quarter with a layup, Shandon engineered a 7-0 run, including a bucket by sophomore Timothy Ramirez and a pair of 3-pointers from Goddard.

Back-to-back layups by Grassotti and Goddard pushed Shandon's lead to 17 points, but the 40-23 advantage wouldn't hold for long.

Riverdale ended the half on a 5-0 scoring spurt, cutting the deficit to just 12 points by halftime.

Early in the third quarter, Grassotti got back on the break after a steal, finishing at the rack with a reverse layup and the foul.

Riverdale clawed back into the game with five straight points, but a skip pass from Goddard to Ramirez gave the sophomore a clean look, which he buried to slow the Ambassadors' comeback.

Shandon extended its lead again after a Grassotti tip shot and a spinning layup from Goddard that put the Outlaws on top, 55-40, late in the third quarter.

The teams traded buckets to close the frame, with Shandon holding a 13-point lead heading into the final quarter.

The Ambassadors opened the fourth quarter with three of the first four field goals, slicing the score down to 61-52 in favor of Shandon.

Riverdale cut the lead to single digits, but the Outlaws answered with a 9-0 run to regain control.

Goddard sank another triple to start the run, followed by three straight layups by junior Roberto Rodriguez, sophomore Jacob Taylor and Grassotti.

At that point, Shandon led 70-52 with a little more than three minutes left, but the Outlaws were unable to slam the door.

Goddard was called for a charge — his third offensive foul of the game — giving the Ambassadors an edge as the clock ticked towards the end of regulation.

Grassotti nailed a jumper shortly thereafter to put Shandon ahead, 72-54, but the Outlaws didn't score for the rest of the game.

Without Goddard on the floor, Shandon struggled to get the ball past the timeline and couldn't find any rhythm offensively.

Riverdale rattled off 10 unanswered points to cut the deficit back to single digits, giving the Ambassadors a glimpse of hope while the Outlaws' offense stalled.

In the end, the hole was too deep to dig out of though, as Shandon held on to notch the eight-point win, 72-64.

The Outlaws will be happy to get out with the victory, but they can't be too pleased with how the last few minutes played out.

What could have been a double-digit blowout turned into a sloppy finish against a team that was clearly overmatched.

Nonetheless, Shandon completed the season sweep of Riverdale, gaining some confidence heading into a critical road game at Northwest Christian.

The Outlaws and Guardians will tip off at 5 p.m. tonight in Bakersfield.

"There was not one day he wasn't out there working and working and dreaming. You can't explain how many hours he spent out here working — six or eight hour days."

Since Berwick can remember, he has had a basketball in his hand, and has commanded skepticism, criticism and praise, but most of all, the boys basketball All-North County Player of the

The community of Templeton has been watching and waiting for years as a stout class of 2014 grew up through the ranks of Templeton High School girls basketball to take the court as seniors this past season, and standing at the helm was the unassuming Mari Stewart, who left her heart on the court to earn the title of All-North County Player of the Year for girls basketball.

Stewart embodied leadership this season as an example of the cliché "it's not all about winning." She grew up on the basketball court in front of the small community of Templeton and what she showed this season is that she had grown up. Cal Poly coasts to first March Madness win

Mustangs flex fundamentals to buck Texas Southern Tigers in First Four

Jeff Poirier
OF THE PASO ROBLES PRESS

DAYTON, Ohio — The magical run to March Madness will live on a bit longer for the Cal Poly men's basketball team, as the Mustangs earned the program's first-ever NCAA Tournament victory on Wednesday night in the First Four.

Matching up with Texas Southern at the University of Dayton's home arena, Cal Poly played a technically clean brand of basketball to survive and advance to the Round of 64 with an 81-69 win.

Cal Poly will move on to face No. 1 seed Wichita State (34-0) on Friday afternoon in St. Louis, with the winner advancing to the third round of the Midwest Region.

The Mustangs had to shake some early jitters against Texas Southern, but once they got settled in the rout was on in the program's tournament debut.

Cal Poly was executing near-flawless fundamentals throughout the first half, throttling the Tigers with hustle, lock-down defense and offensive ball security.

Texas Southern senior Aaric Murray — a legitimate NBA talent — torched the Mustangs for 38 points, but the rest of the Tigers did little to support him.

In less than 10 minutes of action, Murray racked up 13 points to put TSU on top early. However, a first-half run swung momentum into Cal Poly's corner, as the Mustangs went on to build a lead as large as 14 points.

A baseline drive and dunk by sophomore Dave Nwaba put Poly up 14 with two minutes left before halftime. When the buzzer sounded for the break, the Mustangs held a 12-point lead thanks in large part to having just one turnover all half.

Cal Poly — led by senior Chris Eversley's 19 points and nine rebounds — finished the half with 13 points off Texas Southern turnovers. The turnover margin favored the Mustangs by seven, as the Tigers played a sloppy half and gave up the ball eight times.

But when Cal Poly came out in the second half, the script was flipped and TSU slowly clawed back into contention.

After losing one turnover in the entire first half, the Mustangs coughed it up three times in the first four minutes of the second half. Cal Poly ended up with 10 turnovers in total, a primarily second-half stat that head coach Joe Callero couldn't have been too pleased with.

The turnovers allowed Texas Southern to chip away at the deficit, which was quickly cut to single digits. Murray went right back to work after halftime, connecting on a 3-pointer and a nasty put-back slam to get the Tigers within striking distance.

Unfortunately for Murray, a short distance was as close as it would get.

The Mustangs didn't lose their composure, even in the face of mounting turnovers and a shrinking lead. Cal Poly continued to run its offense, crash the boards and play defense, all of which allowed the Mustangs to stay in front.

Eversley led the team in scoring, followed closely by Nwaba who finished with 17 points on 7-of-11 shooting. However, it was the Cal Poly reserves that provided the last punch, as the Mustangs scored 29 bench points.

The unsung hero of the night was Reese Morgan, a junior guard who only averaged 5.7 minutes per game in the regular season. Morgan had only two made buckets all year, but he seized the moment and drained three 3-pointers to lift Cal Poly to the March Madness win.

Two of Morgan's triples came late in the second half, assuring the Mustangs remained on top even as Murray and the Tigers made their run.

Texas Southern continued to fight for its tournament hopes, cutting the deficit to seven points with roughly two minutes left. But the Mustangs held serve at the free-throw line to secure the win down the stretch.

The game was an offensive clinic by Cal Poly, featuring 57-percent shooting and the highest point total against a Division I opponent all season.

Sophomore forward Brian Bennett boosted the Mustangs' percentage greatly, making all five of his shot attempts to post 10 points in 10 minutes on the floor.

The all-around performance was truly worthy of the big stage, but the lights will get even brighter in the next game.

Wichita State is the only undefeated team left in college basketball, and it'll be up to Cal Poly to hand the Shockers their first loss of the year.

WSU is a year removed from reaching the Final Four, but the road back to the National Semifinal runs first through a Cinderella squad from San Luis Obispo. A top-seeded team has never lost to a No. 16, but maybe the Mustangs have a little more history left to write.

The Mustangs will tip off with the Shockers at 4:10 p.m. this afternoon from St. Louis in a game televised by CBS.

Year has commanded attention.

"Rob would have a ball in his hand and get on any open court," Berwick's father said. "We didn't need a babysitter. He'd be there for hours and hours."

Berwick became a halftime show at the tournament games his brother and sisters played in. "Referees at most of those games would kick kids off the court," Berwick's father said. "Rob became such an icon that he would shoot these 3-pointers and he could hardly pick up the ball. Crowds would start cheering and watch him out there perform. The referees would let him shoot and I felt sorry for the other kids because they would kick them off the court and let Rob stay out there shooting. There was something special about him."

That attention placed a lot of pressure on the Greyhounds star point guard but compared to the pressure that Berwick placed on himself, it was just another drop in the bucket.

"As a freshman [at AHS], I expected to be the greatest player to ever play here," Berwick said. "I came in believing that I was going to be the best player to step into the Atascadero High School gym."

Bearcats stay unbeaten in baseball

Paso Robles handles Mission Prep for fourth win

Jeff Poirier
OF THE PASO ROBLES PRESS

PASO ROBLES — Following a tie ballgame in the season opener, the Paso Robles varsity baseball team has rattled off four consecutive victories to remain undefeated on the season.

The Bearcats' latest victim was Mission Prep, as the Royals made the trip north to Barnhart Field for a non-league matchup on Tuesday, March 18.

Paso entered the game after blowing out Morro Bay, 9-2, last week, and the Bearcats continued their strong play against Mission with an 8-5 win.

Freshman Nolan Binkele got the nod to start on the bump, blasting the Royals for four innings while allowing just one run.

Offensively, the Bearcats continued their hot streak by jumping on Mission early, plating three runs in the first inning to take control of the game.

The infield tandem of freshman Christian Erickson and senior Taylor Holden carried the weight at the plate for Paso, each knocking three hits in the game.

As a team, the Bearcats totaled 11 hits, including three extra-base hits — two of which came from Erickson.

Paso also earned five baserunners via walk of hit by pitch, giving the needed offensive output to get the victory.

After falling behind from the get-go, the Royals battled back to make the game competitive.

In the top of the third, Mission got its first three batters on base, starting with a leadoff single.

Binkele didn't break under the pressure, as he successfully picked off the leadoff man for the first out of the frame.

However, the Royals came right back by drawing a walk and following it up with an RBI double to left field.

The base hit cut the deficit to two runs, but it was the only score Binkele allowed in the outing.

The next two batters were retired with a pop out and strikeout, bringing the Bearcats back to bat.

Paso Robles kept pounding away on offense, starting with an infield single that was legged out by junior Bailey Gaither.

Gaither went on to steal second, and was advanced to third on a sacrifice bunt that ended up as another infield single.

With runners on the corners, junior Jonathan Baldwin grounded out to the pitcher to advance a second runner into scoring position.

That's when Erickson grabbed his spot in the batter's box and went to work.

Erickson wasted no time to bring the Bearcats home, slapping a triple on a line to right center.

Next up was catcher Kai Bedell, who drove home Erickson with a double to put Paso ahead 6-1.

The Bearcats then scored their seventh run, as senior Steven Deaville stroked a single to give the home team a 7-1 edge.

After a scoreless fourth inning, Mission Prep rallied for a high-powered fifth inning.

Binkele was relieved by sidearm specialist John Katches, but the Royals figured out the senior's delivery to get back in the hunt.

Mission scored four runs in the fifth after Katches struggled with control, walking a few batters and throwing a couple wild pitches.

Freshman Martin Salas came in to get the final out of the inning, which he did successfully to end the Royals' rally.

Paso notched its final run of the night in the bottom of the fifth, using a bases-loaded sacrifice fly to take the decisive 8-5 lead.

The Bearcats will open PAC-7 play on Tuesday, March 25 on the road at Pioneer Valley.

"We're gonna have to pitch well," said Paso head coach Derek Stroud. "We've been playing great defense, so hopefully we can continue to do that and be able to execute our offense. We'll need all of those things together in order to win ball games."

Grant Britton takes second place among boys with a 406.10

SAN LUIS OBISPO —

The Paso Robles dive team joined a number of other local schools in competition on Saturday, March 15 in the SLO Dive Preview held at Sinsheimer Pool.

In addition to the Bearcats, divers hailed from host-school San Luis Obispo, Atascadero, Righetti, Mission Prep, Morro Bay, Nipomo and Orcutt.

At the end of day full of diving, Paso Robles' Grant Britton held the highest standing among Bearcats, taking second place for the boys.

SLO High standout Blake Griffith ran away with the event, scoring a 462.60 — good for the second-highest score in Tigers history.

Britton was next in line with a score of 406.10, while an Arroyo Grande diver took third.

Also competing among the boys was Paso's Keenan Harris.

In the early stages of the boys' dives, it became clear the meet was a two-man battle between Britton and Griffith.

Britton was pulling down scores of 6 and 7 on many of his dives, including a 1-1/2 pike that drew four scores above 6.5.

However, in the end it was Griffith who took the top spot while diving off the 1-meter and 3-meter.

Britton and Griffith both earned CIF qualifying scores at Sinsheimer.

On the girls' side, Arroyo Grande won the meet, while a pair of SLO divers finished second and third.

Paso Robles' Natalie Duren finished 12th with a score of 221.65.

Fellow North County diver Carly Elliot ended up with a score of 213.20 for 13th place.

The schools will meet again in three weeks for the true SLO Dive Invitational, which will feature a field of competitors executing in midseason form.

The event will be held on Saturday, April 12 at Sinsheimer Pool in San Luis Obispo.

In the meantime, Paso Robles will dive back into action on Monday, March 24 with a home meet against Orcutt Academy at the Municipal Pool.

led the Eagles to an undefeated Los Padres League title, knocking off the league juggernaut Morro Bay Pirates on the road to set the tone for the rest of the season.

"We just knew going in there, it was an important game," Stewart said. "[Winning the first game on the road] was nice because at home we had the crowd behind us. It was such a great atmosphere to play in."

Stewart also set a Templeton High School record with a personal performance that spanned nearly 13 months.

Beginning on Feb. 1, 2013, Stewart delivered a double-double performance for 30 consecutive games with double-digit points and double-digit rebounds. She averaged 21.7 points per game to go with 17.2 rebounds.

In previous years, that may have meant more to Stewart, but throughout the record-breaking season, she seemed to care less about the stats and looked like she was just enjoying the game she fell in love with in middle school.

Stewart worked hard in order to have so much fun. She spent countless hours traveling to Los Angeles to train and wore the badge of team captain with obligation.

"Being a team captain, she took that to heart," THS head coach Shawn Koehler said. "She [showed] how to play the game right. She runs the drill from line to line. She doesn't shortcut herself."

As Koehler watches one of his star pupils take flight into a bigger world, he is confident that she has prepared herself the right way.

"Mari is going to be successful and she is going to do things right," Koehler said. "She worked hard. She worked all summer. I hope that freshman class picked that up. I think they did."

Stewart earned the rewards of hard work and although she has not yet chosen her collegiate destination, wherever she goes, she will take with her the memories made this season while wearing the green and the white.

"[Playing as an Eagle] has been awesome," Stewart said. "I have been a Templeton student my entire life. It is such a unique school and a lot of us went to school together. We got a lot of community support."

Stewart and the Eagles took the fans of THS basketball on a great ride this season and the team and the fan base gets to walk away with memories of a hard-fought overtime win in Morro Bay that paved the way to an undefeated LPL title.

"My best memory was the first time we beat Morro Bay," Stewart said. "[Losing to them over the years] was something we held onto for a couple years. It was such a good feeling to get the win."

Vince Lombardi, legendary coach of the Green Bay Packers said, "Winning isn't everything. It's the only thing."

But winning is not something that can be printed up in a box score. Winning is an inside job.

"I believe there is so many life lessons in basketball," Stewart said. "This year I just tried to play for the love of the game and leave it all out on the court."

Her coach saw that growth in her this year.

"I saw her mature this year," Koehler said. "I saw her become more unselfish. She just let go this year. This year she came in and just played."

She raised the stakes for the Eagles that follow in her footsteps and the banner that hangs in the THS gymnasium announcing their LPL championship stands to remind the underclassmen that greatness is within reach, if they are ready to spread their wings and take ahold of it.

Soon, Stewart will announce whether she will spread her wings and head south, north, east or west for the winter and her first semester of college to continue her adventures in basketball.

"I want to thank everybody for being a huge support," Stewart said, "and our coach [Shawn Koehler] has always been a huge support and just been so positive. He never tried to rip us apart or make us cry. He always encouraged us and that is huge, especially for a girls team."

Barrel racing reigns supreme in Creston

Hundreds showcase skills in opening-day event

*Jeff Poirier
OF THE PASO ROBLES PRESS*

CRESTON — With a population hovering around 100, it's not too often the town of Creston draws a crowd.

How could it? The city center is mostly dirt roads with a few scattered structures — not much to offer in terms of moving the masses.

But for the annual Creston Classic Rodeo from Sept. 11-14, the community came together, and all eyes were on the sleepy town in San Luis Obispo County.

The CCR, which first began in 1996 as a means of raising funds for a community center, has evolved into an annual event for all the Central Coast to enjoy.

Creston kicked off its 19th iteration of the ranch rodeo earlier this fall, opening the action with an exhilarating evening of barrel racing.

The Jackpot Barrel Race, which was sanctioned by both the West Coast Barrel Racing Association and the American Computer Barrel Racing Association, brought in hundreds of eager participants on Patriot Day.

The collection of racers ranged in age and ability, but one thing was constant — the need for speed.

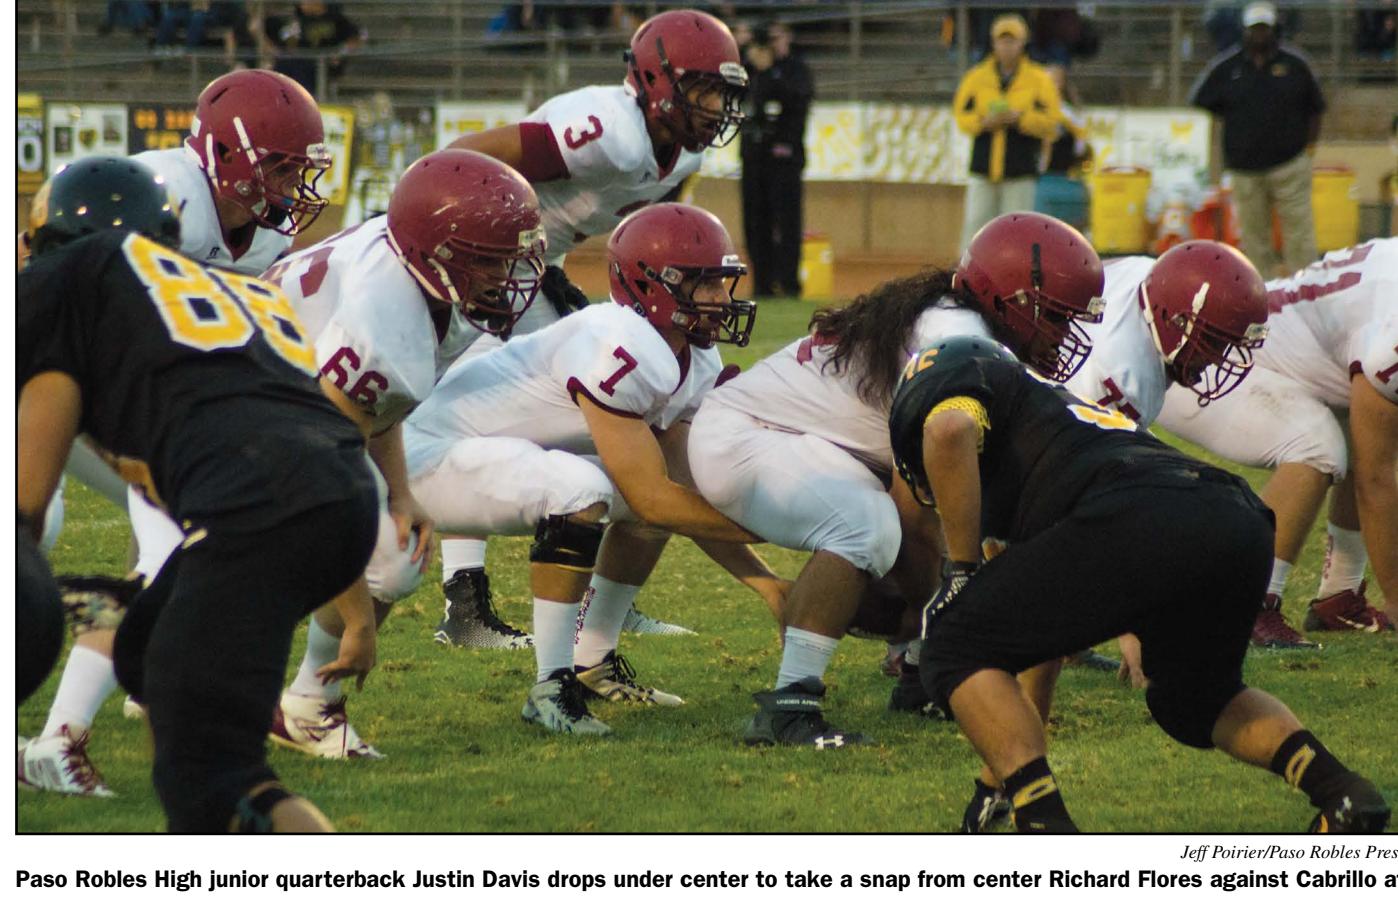

That's what drew 9-year-old Emily Ward and her horse Rocky out to give it a go.

"It felt really good," Emily said after her race with Rocky in Creston. "She wants to run and I want to run."

Heroism and heartbreak Paso Robles' blowout win tainted by trauma

*Jeff Poirier

LOMPOC — As the Bearcats filtered off the field at Huyck Stadium on Friday night, their faces didn't reflect the result flashing on the scoreboard.

Tears were flowing, heads were hanging and any joy that could've come from Paso Robles' 45-6 win over Cabrillo was simply gone.

The Bearcats got a big win, but they paid a bigger price.

With just over four minutes to play in the game, senior Cole Manske went down with a gruesome injury that sent shockwaves through the stadium.

Manske — who came on as a reserve running back after Paso built a 42-0 halftime lead — clutched his right leg in agony as medical staff rushed to his side.

The Paso players could only watch helplessly as Manske was attended to and eventually carted off by an ambulance in Lompoc.

For the Bearcats left behind, the victory was bittersweet to say the least.

The on-field action was basically one big highlight reel, but to lose a player like Manske made for a somber post-game huddle.

"He doesn't play a lot, but he's out there every day," said Paso Robles center Richard Flores. "His work ethic is, honestly, one of the best out there. And that's why it's so heartbreaking to see him go down like that."

Starting running back Christian Erickson had more of the same to say about his replacement.

"He means a ton to us," Erickson said in the aftermath of the injury. "He practices hard; he always goes hard, 100 percent all the time."

Manske didn't usually get much field time with the Bearcats, but he made the most of the minutes he saw against Cabrillo.

TEMPLETON — The Templeton Eagles have landed, giving the home crowd a show on Friday night at Templeton High School's Volunteer Stadium where they pummeled the Santa Paula Cardinals for a 28-0 lead by halftime.

The Cardinals made a strong effort to get back into the game, but fell a touchdown shy as the Eagles came away with their second straight victory.

Templeton's defense paved the way for the victory, holding Santa Paula scoreless through the first half.

The Eagles scored on their first offensive play, and escaped the edge of the Cardinals defense to run a touchdown for the game's first score.

THS then added a 2-point conversion to take an 8-0 lead.

PASO ROBLES — The Cats and Hounds met on the tennis court last week, and the rivals were about as evenly matched as possible.

Atascadero paid a visit to Paso Robles on Patriot Day, but it was the Bearcats who headed home with the slight edge.

Through 18 sets, the teams were tied at nine apiece, sending the match to a total-games tiebreaker.

Paso claimed five of nine singles sets, while AHS took five in doubles.

When the total games were tabulated, the Bearcats beat out the Greyhounds, 76-72.

Seniors Lindsey Horst and Katie Evenson each won two singles sets for Paso, while junior Krista Natividad added one set-win.

Horst was the strongest in singles, taking her two sets with scores of 6-1, 6-1.

For Atascadero, freshman

Nicoline Breytenbach continued her phenomenal play, sweeping three sets, 6-0, 6-0, 7-5.

Evenson battled Breytenbach the closest, winning five games to put the pressure on. But in the end, the Hounds' first-year star was too much to handle.

AHS also got one set-win from senior captain Victoria Thek, who nipped Natividad, 6-3.

Crow said, "and in the girls' meet if they would've scored it, we would've had the best placement by any Los Padres League team."

In junior varsity, Templeton had two girls place in the top six, with Olivia Mariucci taking third and Paige Cuddy ending up sixth.

"We feel like our girls are right where we want them to be right now," Crow said. "They're running pretty well."

"Our goal is to win the Los Padres League, make CIF and run well at CIF," Crow continued. "Our ultimate goal is to make the top seven at CIF and see if we can make it into the State meet in Division 4."

Reaching the State meet will be tough for Templeton, as recent reclassification has added San Luis Obispo and Atascadero to Division 4.

Nonetheless, the Eagles have the depth and talent to make a run for the money.

On the boys' side, THS isn't at the same level, though there is reason for optimism heading forward.

Templeton was without several team members in Morro Bay as a result of various other obligations.

Crow hopes the boys will be at full-strength by the team's next meet, the Righetti Invitational on Sept. 27.

"Our boys team was really shorthanded," Crow said. "Hopefully by the 27th, they'll all be there and ready to go."

With a week off before Righetti, the Eagles will hit the pavement hard.

"With no meet this week," Crow said, "we feel like we can get a really good week of work in."

Templeton will compete in the Righetti Invitational before gearing up for the LPL Mid-Season Meet, hosted by Santa Ynez High School on Wednesday, Oct. 8.

PASO ROBLES — With the Winter Olympics well underway in Sochi, Russia, one North County resident eagerly awaits his opportunity to take to the snow for competition.

Trevor Jacob — a 20-year-old snowboarder who recently moved to Paso Robles — will take part in the Sochi games, representing the United States in men's snowboardcross.

Jacob grew up in Malibu and Mammoth, but made his way to Paso after visiting a friend and falling in love with the area.

"Living in Paso is nice because the weather is great and it's beautiful," said Jacob. "You just take the six-hour drive up [to Mammoth] and you're in the mountains. That's the great thing about California is you can have every type of terrain you could want."

For the past year, Jacob has called Paso Robles home, and now he gets to represent the Central Coast on the world stage.

"I saw [the Olympics] in the near future and I thought, 'I'm gonna give it my best shot,' and it actually ended up working out," said Jacob.

"I really worked hard these last two years to just give it my all and for it to pay off is really exciting for me."

The Cuesta College men's basketball team continued its tear through the Western State Conference on Saturday, taking down Pierce College, 82-79, to remain in first in the league standings.

The Cougars hosted the Brahmas in San Luis Obispo, looking to win their third consecutive game in WSC play.

Pierce entered the game already on a three-game winning streak, so something had to give.

Cuesta was led in scoring by forward Kyle Geer, a 6-foot-4 freshman from Connecticut.

Geer posted a double-double with 16 points and 11 rebounds, leading the Cougars past the Brahmas in a back-and-forth battle.

Cuesta improved to 18-9 with the win, having won 10 of its last 12 games.

The Cougars faced a fierce test against rival Allan Hancock earlier last week, blowing a 21-point lead before rallying to finish off the Bulldogs on Wednesday, Feb. 5.

Oscar Pedrosa dropped 35 points in the game, helping the Cougars come out on top, 93-90.

On Friday, it was the Eagles turn to host the league matchup. The Pirates would be looking to avenge their loss and keep the LPL title within reach, but they would need to pull it off on the road, without their leading scorer, senior Sierra Schwellenbach, who was out with a stomach virus.

The loss of Schwellenbach was devastating to the Pirates. She not only leads Morro Bay in scoring but in rebounds, assists, steals and deflections.

"Obviously we would have liked to see [Schwellenbach] play," Koehler said, "but we were prepared to play with or without her. She's a really good player, but they have several good players. There are a good team."

Regardless of the advantage for the Eagles, it was obvious from tipoff that Templeton was not going to take it easy on the Pirates.

A packed house at Templeton High School's gymnasium was green to the gills. One of the girls' parents bought green t-shirts emblazoned with "GO EAGLES" and the THS athletics department was giving them away with the price of admission.

"Our gym was packed," Koehler said. "It was a huge deal. Everyone talks about Seattle's 12th man. I told our girls out there is our 600th man."

After Morro Bay scored the first four points of the game, Belmonte knocked down a 3-pointer to give Templeton a 5-4 lead.

Torres hit a 3-pointer for the Eagles, followed by a Belmonte layup, to complete a 10-0 run.

The run was interrupted by a Pirates' free throw but Stewart and Russell combined for five points to take a 15-5 lead with 1:28 left in the first quarter.

On her way to a 25th straight double-double, Stewart grabbed a rebound for a putback and Templeton finished out the first quarter with an 18-5 lead.

"We wanted to try to slow Kara [Schmidt] down and went with a box and one," Koehler said. "They started to get the ball down low and spread us out on the baseline. We adjusted to that. We never did slow it down [on offense]."

PASO ROBLES — Coming off three consecutive losses, the Paso Robles varsity boys soccer team was in dire need of a win against San Luis Obispo on Friday night.

However, the Tigers came into War Memorial Stadium and took it to the Bearcats, handing Paso its fourth loss in a row with a 2-0 win.

With the defeat, the Bearcats find themselves in a tight spot with regards to CIF contention, needing to win their final two games of the year and get some fortuitous outcomes elsewhere in the PAC-7 standings.

"It's going to be tough to actually get to CIF," said Paso head coach Omar McPherson. "If we win the next two games, we can give ourselves an opportunity to make it, but we need some help."

Paso Robles' remaining schedule includes a home match against Arroyo Grande this evening and a road date with St. Joseph on Friday. Should the Cats find a way to win out, it'll be up to fate whether they make the cut for postseason play.

In spite of the long odds, McPherson is confident in his team's resilience and focus at this critical point in the season.

PASO ROBLES — Things got out of hand quickly for the Paso Robles girls varsity soccer team on Friday night, as the Bearcats fell behind early and never recovered in a loss to San Luis Obispo.

Paso welcomed the Tigers to War Memorial Stadium for the teams' second meeting of the year, but the result was far from ideal for the Bearcats.

San Luis Obispo scored twice early in the first half and tacked on three more goals throughout the night, stomping out Paso Robles by a final score of 5-0.

The Tigers won the previous meeting in SLO in shutout fashion as well. The combined scores of the season sweep favors the Tigers, 9-0.

SLO broke through in the first half on two through passes, putting Paso keeper Natalya Marcove on an island with no life raft.

The Tigers scored on nearly identical plays within minutes of each other, taking a 2-0 lead and pressuring the home team to respond offensively.

Unfortunately for Paso, possessing the ball was a tough task and the offense couldn't get anything going.

The score remained 2-0 heading into halftime.

"I did what I could trying to spark something, but it just didn't happen today," said head coach

Mike Valenzuela when asked about halftime adjustments. "It just wasn't our day today."

In the second half, the Tigers picked up right where they left off, scoring three minutes into the half to take a stranglehold on the match.

The Bearcats struggled to keep the ball on the attack, failing to generate many offensive chances throughout the night.

Meanwhile, San Luis Obispo continued to pepper the Paso defense and put Marcove to the test.

Tigers scored again with two minutes left to go up 5-0.

"Right now, we're still in contention for CIF," said Valenzuela. "So we've just got to hold it together and come out of the game in the first quarter with a whirlwind of offense and big performances on defense. That performance, led by Stewart, continued into the second quarter. Stewart was getting to loose balls, creating turnovers and grabbing rebounds as the Eagles held onto their lead through the first half.

Morro Bay was not the pushover they were in the first quarter and gave Templeton a better fight. The Pirates grabbed a few big rebounds but were unable to capitalize on every possession and Stewart hit back-to-back turnaround jumpers to settle the momentum shift. After the second shot, the Eagles led, 24-9, with 3:45 left in the half.

Stewart was the first to a loose ball on the Pirates end of the court and passed out to Torres, who dribbled down and hit a pull-up jumper from the wing. Stewart grabbed another loose ball from the Pirates and the Eagles ran the offense to find an open Hattar for a 3-pointer to take a 29-9 lead over their long-time nemesis with 2:36 remaining.

Morro Bay slipped in a 3-pointer with less than :13 on the clock to pull within 31-16 at halftime.

Each team scored 10 points through the third quarter and Templeton took a 41-26 lead into the fourth quarter, then the Eagles finished out the game hammering the Pirates to take a 56-35 victory to end the Pirates' domination of the LPL.

Stewart led the Eagles with 19 points and 13 rebounds, nearly pulling off a triple-double with nine steals. Russell posted 13 points, four rebounds, two assists and two steals. Torres scored 11, four rebounds, three assists and one steal. O'Sullivan grabbed 10 steals while dishing for seven assists. Belmonte scored five points to go with three rebounds, two steals and one assist. Hattar ended with three points, Sudbrink with two.

The win secured the Eagles at least a share of the LPL title and one more victory will earn Templeton sole possession of the league championship.

Templeton (20-2 overall, 10-0 LPL) will host the Santa Ynez Pirates (1-8 LPL) today at 6:30 p.m. for what should be the clincher of sole possession of the LPL title for the Eagles.

The Cougars have three games left on the schedule, including meetings with College of the Canyons and Moorpark College, the last two teams they lost to.

Cuesta's next game is

Wednesday night on the road at Santa Barbara City College.

The Cougars and Vaqueros have met three times already this season, with Cuesta coming out victorious in each game.

Most recently, the Cougars won a 79-66 decision in SLO.

The teams will tip off at 7 p.m. on Wednesday in Santa Barbara.

BEARCATS

of the result," said McPherson. "That's what I ask of them...100 percent all the time."

Against San Luis Obispo, the Bearcats certainly gave it their all for a full 80 minutes.

Just 30 seconds into the match, Paso broke through the Tigers' defense and got a clean look at the goal — the first of many scoring chances throughout the night.

Both teams were able to generate some offense, though Paso was never able to convert their chances into points.

Midway through the first half, the Bearcats got back-to-back shots on goal, possibly their best offensive sequence of the match.

The chance began with a nice pass ahead to sophomore Juan Pino, who fired on goal and forced SLO to make a stop.

The shot was deflected away, where junior defenseman Jesus Pantaleon was waiting to redirect it back on goal, but the Tigers again turned it away.

Over the next 10 minutes, SLO began to assert its will offensively, stringing together a number of solid scoring chances.

In the 24th minute, a goal kick was misplayed by the Paso defense, resulting in a breakaway for the Tigers. The shot bounced wide of the post, but it sparked an outburst from the SLO offense.

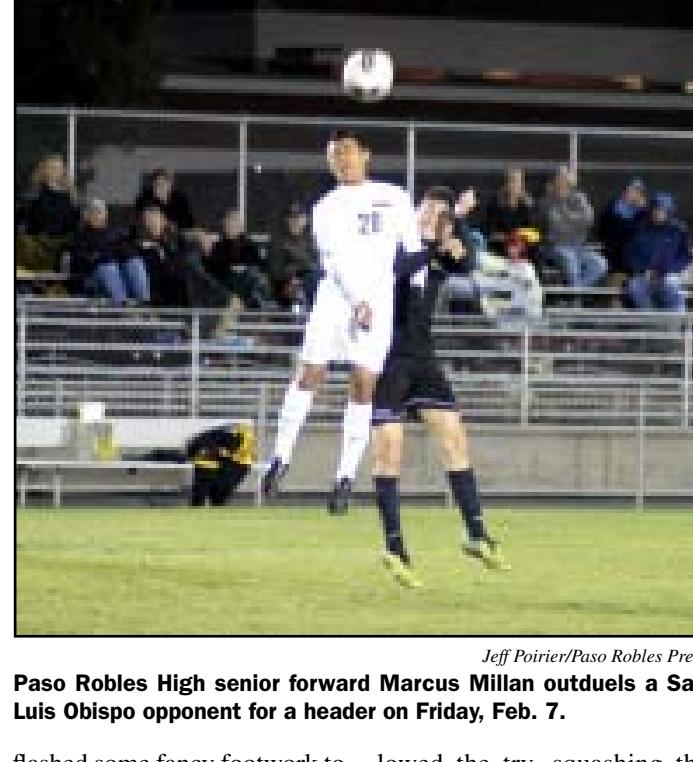

The Tigers got another chance shortly thereafter, as an attacker dribbled unimpeded into the Paso box, booting the ball just outside the goal.

Less than a minute later, the Tigers were back on the attack, getting a powerful shot on goal that was blocked away by Paso junior keeper Juan Carlos Ruiz.

San Luis Obispo had gained momentum in the match, but the scoreboard still showed zeroes for both teams.

Sensing a turn in the tide, Paso Robles began to increase its pressure offensively, generating a few good looks in the closing minutes of the half.

The first came from senior forward Marcus Millan, who flashed some fancy footwork to dribble into open space at the top of the box.

Millan fired on goal, but the SLO keeper stopped the shot. The ball bounced away from his grasp and Paso attempted to follow up with another shot.

However, the referee disallowed the try, squashing the Bearcats' offensive sequence.

In the 34th minute, Pino got back to work, sending a strong kick on goal that was shoved aside by a miraculous SLO save.

With less than four minutes to go in the frame, the Tigers got a big break, drawing a Paso yellow card in the box and earning a penalty kick.

Ruiz did all he could to maintain the tie, but SLO converted the PK for a 1-0 lead.

The score remained for the final minutes, bringing halftime with the Bearcats down a goal.

Unfortunately, Paso would have to battle back without one of its captains, as junior Luis Reyes went down with a collarbone injury and was lost for the rest of the game. Nonetheless, it was all business for the Bearcats, who came out in the second half fired up.

Roughly eight minutes into the half, Ruiz made a beautiful kick save to keep Paso within a goal, but the save resulted in a corner kick for the Tigers.

On the ensuing possession, SLO dropped in a perfect corner to catch Ruiz off guard, scoring another goal to go up 2-0.

With about 20 minutes to play in the game, Millan got good looks on two consecutive offensive pushes, but the SLO keeper gobbled up both tries.

The action continued to go back and forth, as both teams got a number of chances down the stretch of the half.

Junior midfielder Rafael Roman came close to breaking through in the 70th minute, as his free kick snuck over the wall, but couldn't beat the keeper.

Inside three minutes to play, Paso got another free kick hoping to cut the deficit in half, but the ball bounced around in the box before coming to a harmless halt in the defense's possession.

The Tigers were able to preserve the shutout, taking a 2-0 win to complete the season sweep of the Bearcats.

Paso Robles lost earlier in the year on the road at SLO, a 4-0 game that wasn't nearly as competitive as the rematch.

The Bearcats have fallen on hard times of late, but there's no reason to close the door on the year just yet.

If Paso can take down AG on Wednesday, hope will remain for a shot at postseason play.

Start time against the Eagles is set for 7 p.m. for the varsity boys at War Memorial Stadium.
